ONE MORE ISSUE TILL VACATION

Note to our faithful news writers: Just one more issue to get out, that of June 27, and whee! We'll be on vacation for 10 days or so.

The week of June 30 and July 4 will be combined, so far as the Messenger is concerned, and our writers and George and Connie will take a week off.

What with this and that, it never has been so welcome!

News writers will send their letters in next week on schedule, then skip to the Monday of July 8, when they will resume the regular schedule of mailing news again.

Yup, we plan to have fun.

MATT ENGLER STARTS CAMPAIGN ORGANIZATION

Matt Engler, Nottawa beef raiser and candidate for State Representative from the Isabella-Montcalm District, has appointed Attorney Loren Gray of Mt. Pleasant as campaign chairman for Isabella County.

Harry L. Densmore, Montcalm county insurance man, has been named county chairman for that county.

On accepting the job of Matt for Isabella County, Loren Gray said of his candidacy for the same office in 1964,

"I ran because I was not satisfied with our leadership in Lansing, and I have not altered my opinion.

"In the 1964 election," Loren went on, "over two thirds of the voters in the Republican primary voted against an eight-year incumbent who did not carry either county in the district.

"I feel the voters share my concern. Matt Engler has displayed sound leadership and business experience which make him well qualified."

---0---

This week Carl C. Beutler, son of Clyde Beutler, announced his candidacy for Isabella County clerk, opposing incumbent Maynard Gilmore on the Republican ticket. Carl and his brother operate a 300-acre dairy farm in southwest Sherman Township.

A letter from Maynard Gilmore to the Messenger announces he has filed for the same office, of county clerk, on the Republican ticket.

"I will be glad to meet with any

WEIDMAN HAD SOME FLAGS FLYING LAST FRIDAY--The Village of Weidman had the best showing of flags flying in its history, last Friday, national Flag Day. We attribute it not only to the urging of the Messenger last week, but also to the fact that all of us are deeply aware of the sacrifices and courage of our military men in Vietnam, whether we speak out about it or not. There is a new rising of appreciation of our fighting men, alive and dead, in the country; and there is beginning a desire to show respect for the country's flag.

We took the above picture of Shook's flag, as we couldn't get a shot showing the two other merchants' flags next door to Shook's who are Bud Fredrickson at Dillenbeck's Store, and Fox Hardware, both of which had good flags waving in the breeze.

Among others we noticed were Pitts Zenith Store, Dick Curtiss' Gulf Service Station, Adams' Drive In, and of course The Flower Shop and the Messenger. As far as we noticed, these business places were the only ones in town to show the flag, but that was a much better showing than we have ever had before.

Among private residences we noticed flags flying at Clayton Smith's and Ralph Turnbull's.

CANDIDATES ANNOUNCE THICK AND FAST

The county political picture is livening up, with candidates' announcements coming thick and fast. We'll have more next week.

group and discuss the various duties and responsibilities of the office," Mr. Gilmore said.

Ronald D. Demlow, two-term Isabella County treasurer, has filed for re-election on the Republican ticket.

"The tremendous support given me in past elections has been most gratifying," Mr. Demlow said this week.

ANNOUNCE THEIR CANDIDACY FOR OFFICE

Four county officials have announced their candidacy for reelection to county offices on the Democratic ticket.

They are David Burrows, prosecuting attorney; Donald Gillis, Sheriff; Donald Sandbrook, register of deeds; and Cecil Epple, drain commissioner.

Also on the Democratic ticket, John H. Wilberding has announced candidacy for State Representative from the 100th District.

On the Republican ticket, Matt Engler has earlier announced his candidacy for the same office, opposing Russell H. Strange in the primaries.

James S. Fox, Mt. Pleasant attorney, has announced candidacy for Isabella County Prosecutor on the Republican ticket.

Daily Vacation Bible School was a huge success last week, with over 125 pupils attending. The highest daily attendance was 110, with 20 teachers and helpers, making a total of 130 on the last day. It is hoped that many of the new pupils and their families will make this their church home and continue in their Bible studies with us each Sunday.

This is the week we have been anticipating for the past two years. Don't let it slip by without hearing the gospel messages brought each evening by the renowned O. George Stansberry, America's greatest preacher. He is a one-man stage show, and the author is God.

Beginning at 7.15 each evening through Friday, brighten your week and your life by hearing the old-fashioned gospel message. We guarantee that once you have heard him, you'll be back for more.

MARRIED IN ST. LEO'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

St. Leo's Catholic Church of Winn was the scene of an evening ceremony June 7 when Janette Mary Judge and Larry E. Murra exchanged wedding vows.

The bride is the daughter of Margaret Judge and the late Joseph Judge. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Murra of Blanchard.

Father Hugh King officiated at the wedding ceremony solemnized before an altar graced with white gladiolas and yellow carnations and two-tiered candelabra. At the close of the ceremony the bride placed an arrangement of three red roses at the feet of the Blessed Virgin.

Leslie Carroll was soloist, accompanied by John Tope at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle and godfather, Herman Kremsreiter, approached the altar wearing a fitted gown of peau de soie featuring long full sleeves of silk organza and trimmed at the neck and cuffs with Venetian lace. Completing her costume was a lace and pearl edged Dior bow which held her veil of silk illusion.

Joanne Swogger, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids included Jeanne Judge, sister of the bride, Patty Stangle, cousin of the bride, and Naomi Murra, sister-in-law. The flower girl was Amy Swogger, niece of the bride, and Brian Murra, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Dennis Murra served as best man. Groomsmen were Patrick Judge, brother of the bride; Louie Main and Edward Tatro. Seating the 250 guests were the ushers, Thomas Judge and Gerry Judge, brothers of the bride; George Swogger, brother-in-law of the bride; and Boyd Curtiss.

A wedding reception was held immediately after the ceremony, at the CSA Hall in St. Louis. A buffet supper was served the guests, with a dance following.

Candelbra graced the table on which a four-tiered wedding cake was centered. The cake was topped with the same glass ornaments which were used on the bride's parents' cake, then made by the Kaninsky Bakery of Weidman. Daisy Embrey made the wedding cake.

The bride's mother received the guests wearing a pale green crepe dress with beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a green A-line dress with long lace bell sleeves with white accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Clara Fox, formerly of Weidman and now of Beal City, wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The couple left on a Northern trip and to Mackinac Island.

Guests were present from Detroit, Grand Rapids, Blanchard, Lansing, Fenton, Rochester, Weidman, Beal City and Winn.
